CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT OF TEACHING AND LEARNING QUALITY WEBINARS

TITLE/ TYTUŁ: Cheating in (online) assessment

23 / 03 / 2021

Due to the current pandemic situation, and at the same time thanks to new digital technologies, exclusively offline teaching (not only in the field of foreign languages) can nowadays be hardly imagined – if not impossible at all. However, the same is true for any misconduct and fraudulent behavior in examination and assessment contexts: cheating turns into e-cheating. To make matters worse, new technologies seem to challenge previous standards of what is acceptable in education at all levels. The webinar aims to provide answers to the following cheating-related questions:

- What is meant by the term e-cheating?
- How does this phenomenon threaten test security and reliability?
- Which aspects of test security are of utmost importance when assessing foreign languages?
- How can educational institutions, foreign language centers, as well as individual teachers prevent and counteract digital cheating in all its manifestations?
